FRESHMAN FOUNTAIN

KID PARTY WINNERS

Freshman Facts And Oddities

M. W. Players Hold Annual Tryouts

This week the Bullet turns over its flush column in honor of the freshmen. With a few pictures of frosh doings and some rare plugs concerning said diminutive groups, we go to press.

In the first place, what freshman class has had the honor of his excellencies' Governors' presence at their own kid party. The one above ought to make a good picture for your scrap book.

Have you all heard about the youngest freshman in the world (as far as we know)? Shes' right here at M. W. C. Caroline Goodman 4½ years old. Fate decreed that she be born in leap year.

Gene Morris another freshman, discovered on arrival, that she had been given the same room in F. W. that her mother had occupied ust 30 years ago.

The dash of the McPhails, Carolyn, another first year student, has two upperclassmen sisters here.

STUDENT RATE ON VOGUE

The students of Mary Washington College will be allowed a 50% rate of $2.50 on a year's subscription to Vogue. Only students who are enrolled at Mary Washington College are eligible for the allowance.

Tryouts for the Mary Washington Players were held Monday October 6, at 7:30 p. m. in Monroe Auditorium. Both freshmen and upperclassmen were invited to participate. Each candidate was given the chance to act in one of several groups of small plays.

Members of The Players who acted as directors of the groups were: Kathie Adams, Lee Hall, Ada Clement, Emma Jane Davis, Betty Anthony, Flora Copenhagen, Daphne Crump, Rosemary Fairbanks, Barbara Fick, Sylvia Herbst, Jean Ivory, Lois Powers, Frances Rice, Rose Ronci, Catherine Sprinkle, Savila Tuttle, Eleanor Valentine, and Ruth Capen. Dr. Ritter was appointed to be head of the tryouts.

Former Associate Librarian Granted Leave Of Absence

Mr. Bernard M. Fry, former associate librarian, was granted a year's leave of absence by the president, Dr. Morgan L. Combs. This was in order that he might accept an appointment to the Division of Special Information in Washington at the Library of Congress where he will serve as liaison officer and coordinator of sources of defense information.

Mr. Fry will continue to teach the Men's Bible Class of the local Christian Church on alternate Sundays.

New Post Office To Open Soon

Mr. H. F. Crismond, post master of the Fredericksburg Post Office replied in answer to the question, "When will we be able to use the new post office?"

"We expect fully to be in the new office by the middle of next week." Two days before the office is opened, clerks will be in the new post office building renting and assigning boxes to students and the faculty. Everyone is urged to get their boxes before the new office opens. The student body will be notified as to what days will be set aside for that purpose.

There are 1,000 boxes in all, which will accomodate the student body, faculty, and people of the surrounding community. There are two sizes and the charge will be 65c and 75c per quarter. To make it less expensive the students may buy them by rooms—making two or three girls in a box.

No Campus Mail

When asked about the possibility of campus mail, he replied, "I'm very sorry but we won't be able to handle campus mail free. Of course if there is postage on it, it can be handled."

This post office is known as a "classified station" or branch of the Fredericksburg post office. It will have all the facilities of a first class post office. One will be able, among other things, to write or cash money orders, send or receive C. O. D.'s or receive registered mail. The personnel of the office will include one superintendent, and two clerks. Mr. Crismond is sending three of his most experienced and thoroughly trained men from Fredericksburg office. They have, of course, been selected by civil service and are government paid.

The hours of the post office will be as follows:

Open from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. everyday except Saturday and Sunday. Hours on Saturday—8:00 A. M. to 12:00 A. M. It will not be open at all on Sunday. The lobby will be open every night until 8:00 P. M.

The building was started June 1, 1941. The delay in opening is due to the fact that the manufacturers could not furnish equipment in time for the college opening.

Freshman Takes Majorette Honors

Yankee, Barbara Brittain, Winner

Barbara Brittain, a freshman from New Jersey, has been selected as the new M. W. C. drum maorette.

During a special tryout meeting on Friday, October 3, in George Washington Hall, the student body voted by applause for the new maorette.

Four participants displayed their own particular talents by leading the College band in a selection.

Those competing were: Norma Dick from Massachusetts, Dorothy Griffin of Ohio, Nancy Green from Fredericksburg, and Barbara Brittain.

Since the group was formed last year, it has made great progress. Those who were here last year will remember that the band won second prize in the Suffolk Peanut Festival. This year the band is again playing in the Peanut Festival on October 31. They will also be present at the Turkey Festival on October 10. In addition, the band has received invitations from the University of Virginia and the University of Richmond to be the guest band at

Bullet Backs Campus Clean-up

The Bullet staff wishes to make a public announcement of the fact that it is taking the lead in a "keep the campus clean" project. Certainly the student body had noticed and commented upon the untidy appearance of the lawns which are strewn with paper cups, candy wrappings, tinfoil, straws, and "coke" bottles. Most of the damage seems to be done by those girls who purchase food from the college shoppe and throw away the refuse on the way back to the dormitories.

Mary Washington campus has never been so unattractive before. Something must be done at once. The staff asks your cooperation in picking up any trash you may see lying around on the campus, and more important still, ask you not to drop anything yourself. The trash receptables are placed on the campus for your use.

Noted Educator Added To Physical Ed. Department

Dr. Alma C. Kelly joins the Physical Education faculty at Mary Washington College. Her educational record covers a number of institutions of learning. Dr. Kelly graduated from high school in Albany, New York, attended Panzer College of Physical Education, East Orange, New Jersey, and New Haven School of Physiotherapy, New Haven, Connecticut. A B. S. in Education was bestowed by Rutgers University; and New York University gave Dr. Kelly a Master of Arts and Ph. D. To further her education in her particular field, this young woman took graduate work in Johns Hopkins University and Syracuse University. Dr. Kelly has had experience as Physiotherapist at Newark, New Jersey and was Professor of Physical Education at Ithaca College in Ithaca, New York. She has lectured in numerous schools and cities on body mechanics and posture. She has contributed various articles to professional journals on the subject of body movement and posture education. She has written a laboratory manuel on Kinesiology on the basis of experimental work over a period of years. Dr. Kelly has also done research work on Reduction of Energy Expenditure in the Standing Position. In this research work Dr. Kelly found that on the series of subjects used in the experiments, they could be taught to use much less effort than is customary in standing.

Last year, Dr. Kelly was awarded the Honor Alumni Award (outstanding alumni of 1940-41) by Panzer College for her contribution to Physical Education. She will also appear in '41-42 "Who's Who in American Education."

MRS. BOLLING GERMAN SPONSOR

This year the German Club of Mary Washington will inaugurate its social season under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mildred Bolling. Mrs. Bolling, who hails originally from Colorado, has long been a familiar figure on our campus. As such, she has been an active leader in Le Cercle Francais and a constant inspiration to her language students. In private life she is an established resident of Fredericksburg; she is an accomplished violinist; and modestly admits to her Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Kappa Gamma membership.

When asked if she were pleased with her new appointment, Mrs. Bolling smiled happily, and said "I shall try to uphold the high standards of the Club." Those who are interested in the highly social functions of the German Club, and those who have had the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Bolling, feel certain that she will do this with the greatest success.

Mr. Shakespeare Turns Over In His Grave

It was midnight and the clock was striking twelve. I was walking through that old cemetery near Stratford on Avon when I came to an old moss-covered tombstone marked, "William Shakespeare, 1560-1664." "Poor old dear," I thought, "His bones have been molding in the grave for lo these many years." I was pursuing my meditation when all at once I heard a groan coming from the grave. Trembling like an aspen leaf, I knelt down with my ear to the ground to listen. There it was again. I heard the occupant of the grave mutter, "This Epaulet is getting me down. Forsooth, methinks I'm going to loose my literary crown to some promising young lady on that Epaulet staff."

I crowded with delight. "Yes sir, Mr. Shakespeare, you said a mouthful, "I thought, "The Epaulet has everything you ever had and more besides. Such magnificent stories. Why your plots couldn't even hold a candle to ours. Macbeth seems like a pink tea party compared to some of our nice juicy murder mysteries. Such beautiful sonnets! Why, Bill, you don't even know to write a love poem. Some of our poems make people fall in love whether they want to or not. Comedy? Our whole campus howls when they read certain comic stories and plays we write. And believe me that's some howl when eighteen hundred of us get together. We even have the last thing in original drama."

I was about to tell Shakespeare a few more things when all at once I heard a voice singing, "Oh, the frog went around with his feet on the ground, Froggie, Froggie." It was Dr. Shankle. I told him of my adventure but he just laughed and said, "Well, from the way things are going now it looks as if we are going to make even Shakespeare look up and take notice. The Epaulet's going to be the finest magazine ever put out, and I think everybody ought to get her subscription while she can."

Fred Allen Presents

There is more to college fame than football, says Fred Allen. And he is out to prove it.

Each week throughout the coming season Fred is presenting on his CBS "Texaco Star Theater" program a student from one of the country's colleges or universities selected by his fellow students as "the most talented individual on the campus." The talent may follow any course feasible to radio—monologist, instrumentalist, vocalist, mimic, comedian, composer.

The lucky student is sent to New York City with all expenses paid. In addition, he is given $200 cash which must be put toward tuition or college expenses.

Fred points out that such established stars as Kay Kyser, Jimmy Stewart, Cole Porter, Lawrence Tibbett, Rudy Vallee and many others are products of the colleges of America. If they made the grade, perhaps other college students can, too. Fred is anxious to give them the opportunity to try.

The first student to appear on Allen's show was James McDonough, Notre Dame sophomore who came to New York for the October 1 broadcast.

Mary Jo Peterson, senior at the University of Wisconsin appears on the second program October 8. Mary is an honor student majoring in speech. She is active in undergraduate dramatics and had a leading role in Wisconsin's production of "No Boots In Bed."

Other colleges and universities sending representatives to the program are Ohio State (October 15); Columbia University (October 22); University of Pennsylvania (October 29); Cornell (November 5); Michigan (November 12) and North Carolina (November 19).

Mr. Walker has in his office application blanks for examinations for positions in The Virginia Commission for the Blind, The Virginia Department of Public Welfare and The Virginia Unemployment Compensation Commission. These examinations are for clerks, stenographers, typists, and bookkeeping machine and telephone operators in State and Local Departments and Offices. All applications must be prepared on or before the closing date of October 13, 1941.

Anyone who would like further information or application blanks should see Mr. Walker, of the commercial faculty, in the commercial office in Monroe Hall immediately.

Library Hours

The regular hours for the library, Monday through Saturday are 8:00-12:30 and 1:45-5:00, then 7:00-10:00. On Sunday the hours are 2:00-5:00.

Bull Session

All students wishing to express their opinions on campus affairs are asked to address their articles to the Bull Session Column.

"SEE YOUR CAMPUS" CONSCIOUS

The stirring beauty of our campus must have struck each one of you at sometime or another. But have you ever really stopped and thought about that beauty—considered all the work, hope and effort that goes into making it what it is. Have you ever really appreciated it? If not, why not begin now, and show that appreciative love of beauty by following a few simple rules of good etiquette such as walking on the sidewalks—always putting your paper and trash in the receptacle on the campus for that purpose, and helping others to remember these same rules. Strive to keep Mary Washington looking as lovely as it did the day we arrived. So resolve today to do your part in keeping your campus a thing of beauty.

Book Review

BERLIN DIARY

One of the most interesting of the newer non-fiction books is William L. Shirer's BERLIN DIARY. The book gives an open account of conditions in Germany preceding the war, the war itself, and activities behind the Nazi lines.

Mr. Shirer is an American news man who was stationed in Germany from 1934 to 1940. He is a thoroughly informed and unbiased man who believes wholeheartedly that we shall have no democratic way of life if Hitler wins the present war. His radio broadcasts caused much comment both here and abroad because of the clever way by which he got around German censors. He is known for his sly ironies as "so they say" by which method he let his listeners know when to believe and when not to believe what he was saying. When conditions become critical and censorship grew more rigid than ever he felt he couldn't report the news honestly or accurately—so he came home and wrote Berlin Diary.

His style of writing is as vivid as it is honest. Many personal impressions of Hitler and other high German officials are included as well as many interesting, if almost unbelievable stories and incidents.

One of these hard-to-believe stories deals with a German woman whose son was reported killed. But eight of her friends, listening to British broadcasts, learned he was a prisoner in England, and so informed the woman. Whereupon she denounced her eight friends to the authorities for having tuned in on London.

The book is informative as well as fascinating to read. In fact, anyone at all interested in the happenings of the world today will certainly enjoy reading BERLIN DIARY.

Dr. J. A. Pierce of Harvard reports that when a meteor of shooting star passes through the atmosphere many miles above the ground it leaves behind it a trail of broken atoms which may last for many minutes.

Wayne University is sponsoring nearly 60 short-term courses in homemaking problems for adults.

PESSIMISTIC MOOD

Cowards! Cowards that we are
Who dare to reach for a star
And finding it fruitless, vain—
Have no strength to try again!

Are we made of a lesser stuff,
Or do we not know quite enough
That we should resort to utter despair
And forever walk with a despicable air?

Think! Think what this world would be,
If thus it were of all humanity!

Le Cercle Francais Elects Officers

Le Cercle Francais met on Tuesday, September 30 to elect officers for this year. Miss Frances Fisher, president of the club, presided over the election. Sylvia Herbst was elected vice-president (and automatically program committee chairman), and Donna Shearer is the new treasurer.

Among the business discussed were the convocation program they are to sponsor, and the quarterly entertainments they are planning for the club members.

A list will be posted on which students may sign if they are interested in becoming a member of Le Cercle Francais.

Read It Or Not

De Ripley

Hmmm, who's the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi in No. 332 or is it Ellis-where in Vaginnny Hall? At any rate it's a super-duper pin and we'd all like the details if you can spare a few of them, B. Gobbie, gobbie, here's hoping Jane Ellen won't find the turkeys at the festival with too many combs. "Prune" whips with "Pitts" is a specialty with Jean Dougherty at Virginia Openings. Through some "drafted" mistake an empty uniform found its way up to third floor Virginia. Nobody knew where it came from and the poor boy didn't know exactly where it had gone—hmm, even Skipper was surprised to see it. M. W. C. girls will really be giving the midshipmen a treat this next weekend, eh girls? Oh yes and quite a few will be seen at the U. of Richmond, U. of Virginia and all the other "little" colleges—have a grand time you all and don't break too many hearts thus adding to the army's collection of draftees. It must have been a Model T from the sounds of Sunday Night's car trouble, is our guess right Sylvia H.? "Dark Eyes" seems to be Betty Hughes theme song this week—which horse did you say threw you, Betz?

A certain cute sophomore from Puerto Rico didn't know exactly what to do with her melting bag of chocolates; at the suggestion of a brilliant senior she submerged them in a bathtub of cold water. Ha, ha. Result—a cool and refreshing chocolate drink! Jayne Waugh almost swept Dr. Cook off his feet with her reply to his question "What is the formula for water." Cooly (that was before this hot streak struck town) she answered, "H, I, J, K, L, M, N, and O." "What?" cried the amazed professor. "Why yes," Jayne meekly parried, "You told me yesterday the formula for water was H 2 O. (P. S.—Joke, laugh, please.). It wasn't Winchell who reported that a certain cute freshman in 340 (guess where) is going one step closer to tying the knot by announcing her engagement to a handsome second looney soon but nevertheless it's true. May we touch this so called green freshman who has already beaten many a senior to the draw. Those lively girls in Virginia are certainly keeping Emma Jane busy these days. De Ripley heard that she was quite amazed to find a dozen or so girls squeezing oranges and playing games (we don't mean bridge of course) the other day—these poor "prexies" have more than their share to do, what say we help them out a little from now on GALS (Dr. Shankle's influence seems to be found everywhere on this here campus.). Cupid's arrow certainly did go deep and true if a hundred and ten word telegraph is any indication of how a certain looney now in Panama feels about a lovely sophomore. Could it be mutual Sarah Davis? We all think so and don't forget in Spain they say "si si."

Library and Infirmary Have New Assistants

Miss Sara Louise Lamson is Assistant Librarian for Mary Washington College.

Miss Lamson is a native of Macon, Georgia and has always lived there except for the time she spent at Columbia University.

Miss Lamson received her A. B. from Wesleyan College and later her Degree in Library Science from Columbia University. She has had a wide experience in library work, namely; in the Senior High School for Girls in Macon; Mercer University also in Macon and the Washington Memorial Library also in that city.

Miss Mary Fleet is also assisting in the Mary Washington Library this year.

Miss Fleet is a native Virginian. She graduated from William and Mary College where she received an A. B. Degree. In 1939-1940 she was awarded a fellowship to the University of Michigan.

She has taught languages in several high schools and has served as librarian in high schools and public libraries in New York and Michigan states.

Miss Sue Johnson comes to Mary Washington College as registered nurse and is a new member of the staff associated with the Infirmary.

Miss Johnson was born in Pennsylvania County. She took her nurse's training in Pulaski Hospital. She served as night supervisor at this hospital a year after she graduated, and then went to Washington and did private duty for three years. Later she took a post graduate course at the Ear, Eye, Nose and Throat Episcopal Hospital in Washington, D. C. and then did general duty in a number of Washington Hospitals. She was also affiliated at the University of Virginia Hospital in Dietetics.

Alumna Sings At Pop Program

The Pop Program Saturday night was given by Y. W. C. A. They first presented a humorous skit, after which the Prune Quartet sang the "Prune Song" or "The Willard Lullaby."

June Stoll, who graduated last June, Ada Clement, and Dorabelle Forrest then sang "Zequena." As an encore they sang "Tell Me Why."

Sally Roller was mistress of ceremonies for the program.

INTERESTING PERSONALITY

Miss Josephine Walker, elected by the student body last year, to fill the honorary position as advisor of Freshman Commission of Mary Washington College has come back to school to take up her duties with energy and precision.

Jo, who is now a junior, is from Charlotte, North Carolina. "You see," she informed the interviewer, "I'm one of those famous 'Tarheels'." After much persuasion Miss Walker modestly revealed that she had been serving on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet ever since her sophomore year. "I was chairman of the Community Social Service committee last year," she said. The Community Social Service committee under Jo's supervision accomplished many worthwhile things last year including the supervision of the Day Nursery down town one afternoon a week.

Besides all her other duties Miss Walker, as a music major, is an active member of the Alpha Phi Sigma honor society, the Glee Club, the Mary Washington Marching Band, and the Mary Washington Symphony Orchestra. Jo informed us that she was "all rested up and ready to go" having spent her summer as counselor in a "camp up in New York near West Point (this with a twinkle in her eye)." With Miss Walker as advisor the Freshman Commission of '41-'42 is assured a brilliant and successful year.

A. A. PRESENTS FIRST DANCE OF THE YEAR

To the musical strains from the ol' "Juke box," the members of the Athletic Association swung out in a rhythmic fashion, commonly called dancing. This event occurred Saturday night in the "Big Gym" to celebrate the registration of members in the recent drive.

About a third of the members were present and also a number of men, unusual as it may be. It was too bad some of them chose to stay on the balcony.

The gym was attractively decorated with large blue A. A.'s on each basketball backboard and a bulletin board representing all the athletic activities on campus. Around the balcony railing was equipment representing the different sports, basketballs, dangle targets, fencing foils, bows and arrows, deck tennis rings, and Indian clubs. Between each article was a ribbon of blue and white ribbons, the school colors.

Miss Stewart, Head of the Physical Education Department, and sponsor of the Athletic Association, introduced several simple folk dances. That provided much action and group fun. The last of this group included a version of the Snake Dance and was led by Miss Stewart who ended it by marching past the refreshment stand where "cookes" and cookies were served.

To end with the old quotation "A good time was had by all."

M.W.C. Archery Team Ranks Third In South

Mary Washington College has done it again! Her archery team placed third with 509 arrows in the target out of a possible 576 and a total score of 2695 in the South District of the Twelfth Annual Women's Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery Tournament, held last Spring. The team was excelled only by Randolph-Macon Women's College with a score of 536-3046, and by Alabama College with 542-3026. The team gained 38th place in the national field of over 135 entries in this, their first year of competition.

Members of the team were: Lucy Johnson, scoring 70-400 and making Class B National Rating because of a score of over 350, Elizabeth Adair, Norma Lee Dickinson, Katherine Pinner, and Elva Reynolds, all making Class C National Rating with a score of over 300, and June Cave.

All members of the team had only one quarter's work in archery but with practice and the excellent coaching of Dr. Mary C. Baker, they were good enough to place with top archers of the nation.

A Westmoreland Pollyanna has cheer for fellow third-floor dwellers in Westmoreland: "When you have reached the third floor via the stairs, be thankful you don't have to continue up that little ladder."

Class Hockey Teams Begin Practice

Hockey practice for the 1941 season started with a clash. The Seniors, of whom were represented by a mere number of eight players, scrimmaged with the Sophomores of whom there were only seven, and took them by a 3-0 score. However the following practice, the result was a scoreless tie.

The Freshmen had seven girls out for practice while the Juniors had only four. This isn't half enough and with 1700 students in the college, there should be more out for the sport. All teams are asking for anyone in the least bit interested to come whether they play or would like to learn.

The teams are managed by students, seniors in Physical Education. There is one exception, however, and that is the Sophomore team because the Seniors scheduled to coach them have practice at the same hour. They are coached by Miss Hoye, our new hockey teacher, who is a whiz at getting the ball up the field.

Plans for the games include the band, cheer leaders, and a cheering squad, and refreshments to be sold on the field. These plans are subject to change, depending on the cooperation of the students.

The biggest hope is that Mary Washington College will be represented by a variety team at the Virginia Hockey Conference to be held at Westhampton College around the first week-end in November.

The schedule for the 1941 Hockey Season is as follows:
Senior-Sophomore—October 21.
Junior-Freshman—October 23.
Senior-Freshman—October 28.
Junior-Sophomore—October 30.
Senior-Junior—November 4.
Freshman-Sophomore—November 6.
Devil-Goat—November 11.
Westhampton—?

Terrapin Choose 22 New Members

If the enthusiasm of the 70 girls who tried out for the Terrapin Club is indication of success, this should be a "red letter year" for the Terrapins. Out of the 70 who tried 22 were admitted into the Club after a stiff test of swimming strokes and dives before eight judges.

The girls that have been chosen are: Jane Coleman, Anne Melone, Juliet Benack, Beverly Munn, Cecilia Mills, Mary Jo Ward, Alice Seyer, Mid MacPherson, Phillis Oueinby, Joyce Cohen, Rosamond Eckfeldt, Ellen Treublie, Lois Toggin, Mada Epsberg, Eileen Lully, Martha Holloway, Bettie Griggs, Bea Benoit, Betty Ames, Jean Lupies, and Dorothy Seyer.

The first meeting of the year will be held on Monday, October 13, at which time officers will be chosen and plans for the coming year discussed. The first event on the swimming club calendar is a swimming and diving exhibition which is scheduled for the latter part of the month.

Syracuse and Colgate football teams will play each other twice in 1943—October 2 at Hamilton and November 13 at Syracuse.

Hits and Misses

By PEGGY PORCH

In a recent A. A. Council election, Rite Fortmann was named Chairman . . . Congratulations . . . This election was held to supply chairmen in place of Dorothy Graf and June Cave, neither of whom returned to school this season.

Anna Roberts and Margaret Hudson are our new sports reporters . . . Isn't it a coincidence that they are both Sophomores and both are living in Virginia Hall? . . . Come on you athletes and shine for them. . . Sssh. . . It's rumored that Jean Randall of the Intermediate Archery Class has played tournament tennis. . . Also she has a brother who is another tennis husband. . .

One of our last year's Seniors, who is now doing post graduate work on the hill, is coaching the Sophomore Hockey Team. . . Who is she? . . . Well, it's Virginia Davis. . . Here's plenty of success, Coach, but the Seniors come first. . .

The other hockey class teams are coached by the Senior Physical Education Students. . . Becky Buckingham and Lavinia Ellett are coaching the Freshmen, while Rite Fortmann and Nancy Brooker are coaching the Juniors. . . The Seniors are coached by their manager, Becky Buckingham, and captain, Rite Fortmann. . .

By the way, have you heard about opening game of the Hockey Season? . . . It's October 14th, Seniors vs Sophomores. . . In practice, the Seniors have taken one of the scrimmages, with the other scrimmage ending in a scoreless tie. . . Who knows? . . . Even the band might be there and cheer leaders too. . . Come on and support your team. . . Wonder if Miss Hoye will be cheering for the Sophomores by any chance. . .

We hear that Dr. Sinclair is now with William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Miss Rogers is at the Norfolk Division of William and Mary. . .

There will be a doubles tennis tournament in which about seven entries or teams will participate. . . Joyce Davis and Peggy Porch, scheduled to play each other last Spring, have called that match off and will now play on the same side of the net. . . Favorites to win will be Helen Miller and Molly McKeen. . .

Miss Hoye As Interviewed

BY JOYCE DAVIS

Miss Anna Scott Hoye is the vivacious individual who now frequents the hockey field and the tennis courts. She is easily characterized by her sparkling blue eyes, short, naturally wavy, black hair, friendly smile and attractive sport clothes.

Miss Hoye, latest addition to Mary Washington's Physical Education Department, is a native Virginian, from Louisa, Va. After graduating from Louisa High School, Miss Hoye received her A. B. degree in Biology at Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va. in 1936. She was appointed principal of Thelma School, Louisa County where she taught the sixth and seventh grades. In 1939 she received her Master of Science in Physical Education from the University of Wisconsin. Miss Hoye then accepted a position as an instructor in Physical Education at the Woman's College, University of North Carolina. While at North Carolina, she served as a counselor in the Personnel Dept. under Miss Harriet Elliot, a present member of the National Defense Board.

In January 1941, she received her private pilot's license. She is a member of the "99's"—the International Women's Flying Organization—the only club of its kind for women.

For the past few summers she has been a counselor in Camp Sargent, Nashua, New Hampshire. An enthusiastic camper, Miss Hoye makes use of every opportunity to live in the outdoors.

Outing Club Will Celebrate Birthday

Two years ago, a few Mary Washington girls joined to form a club through which the girls might be brought into a closer acquaintance with the natural beauties that surround Fredericksburg. The National Parks, the woods, the fields, and streams became their destination, and the wider and more away from civilization the better it was. Spending a few hours in such places provided a complete and restful change.

Many obstacles were faced and surmounted in their first and experimental year, at the end of which the club was easily considered the most successful organization on the hill. To Helen Miller, the club's president, goes most of the credit for the achievements made by the Outing Club. Also to Dr. Mary C. Baker, sponsor, the members give their wholehearted thanks for advice, help, and inspiration.

This year an ambitious program has been planned. In a few weeks the Club is going to the Appalachians to hike on the beautiful trails through the mountains. Shorter hikes are planned for every "hikeable" Saturday to Lovell's Leap, Katherine's Furnace, along the Rappahannock River, or along down the canal.

All students are invited to attend the "open hikes" and so will be notified of such. Plans are under way for a Junior Outing Club, so great is the number of those wishing to belong to the organization. The future predicts that this will be the top year for the Club.
